Circuit Stream Course Budget Proposal

I, _____ is looking to enroll in the Circuit Stream course _____ _____ which will take place online from _____ to _____ .

The price of the course is _____ . Upon the completion of the course, I will receive an industry-recognized certificate and have the ability to build software for the company after or even during the course as the final project.

The course is taken fully online in a part-time setting. Thus, I won't have to take time off work and my focus and day-to-day responsibilities won't be affected in the duration of the course.

By completing the course I will know:

- The fundamentals of XR development/XR design with Unity game engine
- How to efficiently work with immersive technologies across different departments
- Research and solve problems on my own
- Who to reach out to for specific problems using the network of hundreds of active XR designers and developers in the Circuit Stream private community

The potential benefits to the company:

- You will have a dedicated expert on immersive technologies on our team
- We will have ability to introduce and implement immersive technologies in our company
- I will be at the forefront of immersive technology and will be able to train, educate, and mentor other members of our department while increasing employee loyalty and retention
- I will have the ability to build/supervise software development after the course. The final project in the course can be used towards building a tangible prototype for the company.

I'm excited about this learning opportunity and I'm happy to discuss the details about the program and tangible benefits for our company in person.
